THE CHARLEROI MAIL

VOL. XVIII. NO. 6. CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON CO., THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1917. ONE CENT

FEAR SHORTAGE OF COAL IN SOME PARTS OF THE COUNTY

Increased Production is All Taken By Industrial Concerns

DOMESTIC TRADE HARD HIT

In spite of the fact that the coal production of Washington county is being gradualy increased, and will probably break all records during the coming y ear, it is apparent that a coal famine is possible in some parts of the county next winter.

W. S. Lockhart of Washington, who keeps well informed on the subject of production, says that from the number of new operations now under way in the county it is very evident the production will be largely increased for 1917, the actual results of which will become known when final figures are given at the end of the year.

Washington county has a large tonnage at the present time, but with the increase now apaprent it is likely to become the leading bituminous coal county of Pennsylvania.

However, with all this increased production fears are entertained that it may be difficult for local consumers to be supplied during the coming winter with their wants in the way of fuel.

The prevailing price at practically all of the mines in the county is 12 cents at the mine, with two and three cents additional for delivery, depending on the distance it has to be hauled. Some people, even at this time, are anticipating their wants by endeavoring to have hear next winter's supply delivered at once, but are experiencing some difficulty to get dealers to handle their orders, because the output of local mines is all practically taken by local manufacturing concerns.

This increasing and constant demand for coal has resulted in many small companies being formed in this vicinity, all of whom seem to be able to dispose of their product with but little difficulty. Many old workings have been reopened, while the Sewickley or upper vein is being worked in many places with good results.

STR. JIM BROWN, GOOD AS NEW, WILL SOON BE IN COMMISSION

Another practically new boat will be added to the fleet of the Pittsburg Coal company, and which will be added to the steamers now in commission on the Monongahela. The boat is the "Jim Brown," one of the oldest steamers on the three rivers, built originally by W. H. Brown & Sons for pool work, but which was sold to the River Coal company at its formation about twenty years ago.

The Brown has been thoroughly overhauled and fitted out with new steel boilers and other up-to-date improvements, which makes the boat practically new. All that remains of any of the old parts is the name, which the boat has borne since the day it was launched.

MARTIN GIVEN SENTENCE IN WASHINGTON JAIL

In the United States District Court at Pittsburg on Wednesday, Joe W. Martin, former postmaster at Washington, was sentenced by Judge Orr to serve three months in the Washington county jail, after the defendant had stated he wished to plead guilty to a charge of embezzlement.

TO KEEP RECORDS OF OUR SOLDIERS

County Historical Society Wants Complete List of Men Who Enlist

A COUNTY ROLL OF HONOR

The men who go from Washington county to serve in the army and navy of the United States during the present war with Germany will not be forgotten. Their names will be preserved for posterity, as the Washington County Historical Society has arranged to keep a complete record of all those who go from this county to do military duty in the present crisis.

In order to obtain this record however, it will be necessary to have the cooperation of the soldiers themselves. In order to make the record complete the society wishes each resident of Washington county to send in the following information:

Name, occupation, where born, date of birth, residence at time of enlistment town or township) parents' names and whether living or dead, names of brothers in the war, place of enlistment, branch of the service, with company and regiment, rank and past military record. Members of the American Ambulance corps are also requested to send in the same information. The information should be mailed to Miss Jane Hall, secretary, Washington County Historical society, Washington, Pa.

These records will be filed away and also placed i na boon, where they may be found easily. It is the desire of thesociety to have a complete list of Washington county's soldiers, which will be published from time to time and may be published in book form later. By sending the desired information to the society, it will be made permanent, as the record will be kept in the society's room in the court house.

TEACHER'S SALARIES MAY BE INCREASED

If the Milliron bill, which passed the House at Harrisburg yesterday becomes a law, it will mean an increase of salary to a number of teachers in the Charleroi public schools.

The Milliron bill provides that the minimum salaries to be paid to teachers holding provisional certificates shall be $55 a month, and those holding permanent certificates or normal diplomas shall receive $60 per month.

According to the schedule of salaries now in effect in the Charleroi schools the minimum salary of teachers is $45 per month. Up to and including the sixth grade the increase is at the rate of $2.50 per month for each successive year until the salary reaches $70 per month. In the seventh and eighth grades the maximum is $85 per month.

Should the Milliron bill become a law, which is altogether probable, it will mean that the lowest salary that can be paid a teacher with a provisional certificate will be $55 per month while those with permanent certificates or normal diplomas will receive $60 per month.

The law would compel the Charleroi school board, as well as practically all other school boards in the state, to revise their salary lists, which will mean an increased expenditure for the coming school year.

ACID IS KILLING FISH IN THE MONONGAHELA

Wednesday morning many dead fish were noticed in the river at Lock No. 4, as a result of the large amount of acid with which the water is impregnated at the present time, and which always predominates as the river reaches a low level.

From now on, until there is a rise in the river, steamboatmen will experience a great deal of trouble on acount of the serious effect this acid charged water has on steamboat boilers and all precautions known will have to be taken to prevent a total disablement of the towing fleet now in service on the Monongahela.

Many chemicals are now being used, while others are being tried out, in an endeavor to find something that will counteract the effect of the acid, which for many years past has been such an expensive and unwelcome visitor at this time of the year. It is no unusual sight to see steamers having a barge in tow loaded with water taken from the Allegheny river, which, up until the present time, is not so thoroughly contaminated with this destructive agency.

Some of the newer boats have installed condensing plants, but they are only a partial benefit, as they are unable to supply a sufficient amount of water to supply the boilers.

PROFITABLE RIVER BUSINESS FOUND BY OIL BURNING BOATS

Gasoline and oil burning boats are beginning to find a profitable business in theshort line trade, towing flats and dredge boats for the different companies operating along the Monongahela.

Those recently entering the trade on the Monongahela are the Clarion, Leon, Bronx, Ethel and Annie L. Shippers have been compelled to resort to those smaller type of boats, as the regular coal packets are taxed to their capacity in taking care of coal shipments.

WILL PLAY ALUMINUM TEAM ON SATURDAY

The Pittsburg Steel Products base ball team will go to Tarentum on Saturday next, where they will face the strong Aluminum team of that town The game will be played in Peterson park, and promises to be a contest filled with thrills. Manager Clyde Regester will take his strongest team to face the Allegheny valley boys and hopes to bring home the bacon. He is somewhat undecided as to who will pitch the game, but the selection will lie between Whetzel and Rapp. Whetzel formerly played on the Aluminum team and is said to be a splendid pitcher. If he is not available Rapp will occupy the mound, with Guder back of the bat.

Manager Regester and his team will leave Charleroi on Saturday morning on the 8 o'clock car and will reach Tarentum about noon.

On Saturday, June 30, Steel Products will play the Monongahela team at the local park. This will be the opening game of the three-cornered series between the Pittsburg Steel, the Monongahela and the Steel Products teams for the valley championship. All of the games are expected to be thrilling.

MIGHT'S BOOK STORE WILL HANDLE UNITED CIGAR CO. LINE

Beginning with Saturday next Might's book store, by taking advantage of a new plan recently put into operation by the United Cigar company which will make the store a United Cigar store. The arrangements gives thelocal store all the advantage of buying and selling that any United Cigar Store enjoys, in which the customers will get practical benefits. As will be seen by an announcement in another column, the opening on Saturday will be celebrated by offering special inducements to all customers who may make purchases of a certain amount and over. The United Cigar company is a national institution, and its coming to Charleroi will undoubtedly be appreciated by those who enjoy a good smoke, or who use smokers' articles.

REPORTS FROM RED CROSS COMMITTEES ENCOURAGING

A Few People Find Excuses to Withhold Their Support

EXPECT TO ATTAIN THE GOAL

Reports in general are very encouraging as to subscriptions to the Charleroi Chapter of the Red Cross The various sub-committees are hard at work in canvassing the town, and it is their aim to visit every family in the borough and in all the district covered by the activities of the local Chapter.

While the committees in general have met with encouragement, there have been isolated cases where very trivial excuses have been given. Some people solicited said they had other uses for their money, a statement undoubtedly true, but if every one looked at the situation in that manner there would be no contributions to the Red Cross or to any other worthy object.

The Red Cross will take care of the sick and wounded of the American army which is being called for duty in France. To properly carry out the work required will take millions of dollars. This money must come from the American people. It will be used in buying the necessary supplies which will be used in the various hospitals of France and England where the wounded and the sick will be taken care of.

The American Red Cross realizes that itmust have equipment to take care of the one million men who are about to be called into active service for overseas duty. It is in this work the Charleroi Chapter is engaged. It wants three thousand members. To become a member only requires the payment of one dollar. The sum is so small that every family in Charleroi can afford to "do its bit."

The local Red Cross officials hope there will be no "slackers" in this great work. We are all concerned. We should assume our responsibility. Let there be a generous response, therefore, to appeal for membership, that Charleroi Chapter may be able to perform the work it has set out to do.

MINISTERS WILL STAGE BALL GAME AT PICNIC

The members of the Monongahela Valley Ministerial association are holding a picnic near Rehoboth church today. This morning a business session was held and at noon a basket picnic dinner was served. This afternoon the feature was a baseball game with H. Dallas McCabe of Monessen as umpire.

CATTLE RAISERS HOLD MEETING

Listen to Address by Experts on This Important Subject

MANY WERE IN ATTENDANCE

Great interest was manifested in the meeting of cattle breders at Fayette City on Wednesday, when 250 or more men interested in this industry assembled at the Andrew Brown farm to discuss phases pertaining to cattle raising. In the morning Shorthorn and Guernsey breeders held a joint session at which interesting and informative addresses were made by H. H. Havner, and W. H. Tomhave, State College experts and E. S. Bayard, of the National Stockman and Farmer.

Following luncheon the fine Shorthorn and Guernsey herds of Mr. Brown were inspected. Mr. Brown has four Shorthorns for which he paid $3,900 recently in Chicago, and all of them magnificent specimens of the breed.

In the afternoon the beef breeders and dairy breeders held separate sessions and among those who addressed the Guernsey men were George S. Buckley of State College, State Agricultural Commisioner Phillip, of Chester county and County Agriculturist J. M. McKee, of Washington county.

Mr. Ross, a well known Shorthorn breeder and representative of the American Shorthorn Breeders' association, addressed the other section. He told of the change the war has brought in England in cattle breeding. Nothing may be fed stock which is edible by humans. Race horses and dogs are being killed, Unless they are useful on the farms, in order that the food supply may be conserved. County Agriculturist P. E. Dougherty of Fayette also spoke before the section.

The Shorthorn breeders appointed a committee to plan for an organization of those residing in Southwestern Pennsylvania and a meeting will be held in Washington June 28 to complete the organization. The Guernsey breeders also will have an informal organization.

NEEDLESS ALARM.

Those who have opposed and are opposing propositions to put additional powers in the President's hands, on the ground that we are thereby in danger of losing our liberties and of exchanging democracy for the very principles of autocracy which we are now fighting, may well be reminded that precisely the same outcry was heard almost continuously in both the North and the South during our great internal war and that, looking back now, we can all see clearly that the outcry was needless.

In both sections conscription, the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus and other emergency measures were bitterly fought and the most gloomy predictions of utter disaster to the republican government were solemnly made. Both Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis were characterized as "dictators," "despots," and masters" who were demolishing the very foundations of popular freedom. In the South, perhaps the outcry, led by Alexander H. Stephens, was the greater and the injury done the cause upheld the more serious. Stephens and others like him in both sections forget that those who would win a war can not afford to stop often in the midst of hurrying events and debate the question of consititutional powers and limitations, and without realizing it, Stephens was more concerned about maintaining the rights of the Southern people as grouped in separate States than about achieving the success of the Southern Confederacy.

He declared that if Lincoln had been a despot from the first and urged the people of the South not to permit themselves to become likewise enslaved, his agitation seeming to threaten the secession of more than one State from the warring Confederacy and compelling Jefferson Davis to go to the lower South and deliver speches in defense of the government—in reality far from resolute and powerful enough—which he represented. In a speech threatening a second secession of Georgia and North Carolina, Stephens declared: "I was not born to acknowledge a master from either the North or the South. I shall never choose between candidates for that office." Fortunately, in both sections, the harm done by agitation of this sort was less great than it might have been because the people in general were not really alarmed by extra constitutional acts and the exercise of unusual powers at Washington and a Richmond in the midst of war.

While patriotic and rhetorical alarmists, sticklers for constitutional rights and limitations, clamored and prophesied ruin to come, the people generally in both sections gave ear to the dictates of common sense. The people cared little or nothing about constitutional government for the moment and were interested only in seeing the war brought to an issue favorable to their respective sides. In this they were justified both by sound reason and the course of later events. The war passed and normal conditions returned, with our governmental structure uninjured and popular liberty unimpaired. The same happy outcome will, of course, follow the present war even if temporary extra-constitutional measures are found imperative.

One man who refused to buy a liberty bond said that, though an American citizen, he would not pay to aid the war against his relatives and friends in Germany. He ought to have been asked for a guarantee that his relatives and friends in Germany would be equally considerate of their relatives and friends in the United States

Surely no normal-minded citizen, even if a confirmed bachelor, can object to the Senate Finance Committee's revision of the War Revenue bill involving a further income tax exemption of $200 for each dependent child of a taxable parent.

The "widow's mite" principle was literally translated into modern terms when one boy of 16 contracted to pay $1 a week for a $50 Liberty Loan bond, although his salary was only $7 a week and he is the sole support of a mother and baby sister.

Who does the most harm, the pro-German working in secret, the greedy food speculator or the confirmed "knocker" who gains nothing by his industry?

The season of baseball and black bass fishing will bring their accustomed joys in spite of war and high prices

Wagner Day at Forbes Field.

Big baseball doings are "in the air" for the near future down Pittsburg way. At Forbes Field, on Friday, June 22, the local fans are going to pay homage to Hans Wagner, the greatest player of all time, in a rousing "Wagner Day."

Wagner is to be made the recipient of a handsome present during the progress of the game—a token of the esteem in which he is held by the baseball loving public—but the presentation committee is guarding the secret closely as to what this present is to be.

Wagner, however, insists that if the public is to insist on the presentation of a testimonial, that it be something modest, and if there is a surplus that it be turned over to the Red Cross, or some other worthy object.

The Chicago Cubs are to be the opponents of the Pirates on Wagner day, and as Callahan's Colts are going at a pretty good speed, they are apt to spring a surprise on the athletes from the west. Favorable weather is all that is necessary to make the game one of extreme interest.

Owing to the enormous increase in the price of materials such as fruit syrups, ice, sugar, crushed and fresh fruits, salt, containers, carbonic acid gas, etc., some of them having been advanced as high as 100 and 200 per cent, it has become necessary for us to raise the price of fountain products.

Beginning Saturday, June 23, the following prices will prevail:

Ice Cream, per qt. - - - 45c
Ice Cream, per pint - - - 25c
No Sundaes less than - - - 15c
Egg Drinks - - - - - - 15c
Banana Splits, special sundaes - 20c

In making this announcement we trust the general public will appreciate the fact that this advance has come one and two weeks later than similar advances in neighboring towns and that having continued the old prices as long as possible we are without a choice in the matter.

MONONGAHELA RIVER IS AT VERY LOW STAGE

At the present time the stage of water in the Monongahela river is at the lowest pointof any timeduring the season and it has been found necessary to put up all the wickets at the dams on the Ohio river, as well as put on splash boards on the dams in the Monongahela and Allegheny.

SERVICES ARE GROWING IN INTEREST AND ATTENDANCE

The meeting in the Methodist church last night, being the second in the series, was the best one held yet. A splendid congregation was present to hear the Rev. F. A. Richards, who was pastor of the church from 1910 to 1914. Rev. Richards preached a splendid sermon and at the close of the service more than half an hour was spent in giving an informal reception to Mr. Richards and his wife, as well as to Dr. Mead and his wife who were present for the service.

Dr. Mead, by the way has a record that is rarely made by a minister in the Methodist church, that of serving the congregation in two pastorates. Dr. Mead was pastor of the local church from 1914 to 1916 and had served in the same capacity two years once before, giving a total of four years of service to the congregation.

He has many friends in Charleroi and a large attendance is anticipated at the service tonight at which time he will preach the sermon.

Rev. J. C. Burnsworth of Derry, will preach tomorrow night.
